5 - 10

Early Stage

You're early. That's a good thing.

One well-placed AI system could save your team 10+ hours per week. You have the advantage of building smart from the start instead of retrofitting broken processes. A single automation sprint would put you ahead of 80% of businesses your size.

11 - 17

Ready to Move

You're ready. The foundation is there.

Your operations have enough complexity that AI will deliver immediate, measurable ROI. A Momentum Sprint would transform your operations in 90 days, connecting your tools, automating your outreach, and giving you dashboards that actually drive decisions.

18 - 25

Overdue

You're overdue. Your competitors are already automating what you do manually.

Every week without AI systems costs you revenue, time, and competitive position. The good news: the higher your score, the bigger the ROI when you deploy. PRISM builds the systems that turn operational chaos into a scalable machine.
